What's new?

CloudView Integrated with TotalCloud

With the 2.4.0 release, CloudView is now integrated with the TotalCloud application to provide a complete Cloud-Native Application Protection Platform (CNAPP) solution. This integration simplifies cloud infrastructure security by combining essential components such as Cloud Workload Protection, Cloud Security Posture Management, Cloud Detection and Response, and Container Security, covering security from development to runtime.

All of the CloudView features and functionalities are still available to you in the TotalCloud application as seen in the Qualys module picker.

Furthermore, you can access previous TotalCloud features such as FlexScan, real-time threat detection, threat prioritization, etc. in this new integrated application.
